8:00 PM at Jones Hall

IN PARTNERSHIP WITH THE MONTROSE
CENTER, BAYOU CITY PERFORMING ARTS, AND LEGACY COMMUNITY HEALTH SERVICES.

it gets better is a moving performance that utilizes the power of song and story to transform painful histories of bullying, harassment and discrimination into a celebration of courage and a campaign for social justice in Houston. The program features a touring cast who will be joined by Houston's own Bayou City Performing Arts. Bullying is the most often cited contributor to the extraordinary rise of violence and suicide among LGBT, Black, Latino and physically challenged people. Through a performance created under the direction of the Gay Men's Chorus of Los Angeles, SPA and its collaborative partners, the Montrose Center, Bayou City Performing Arts and Legacy Community Health Services will have an opportunity to address bullying on a local level through the performing arts.
